

Heubach Publishes Second Sustainability Report

The Heubach GmbH Group published its second sustainability report in October 2021. This report summarizes the company's activities and progress for the years 2018 to 2020 at its sites in Germany, the US, and China and provides an outlook on the goals it has set itself for the coming years. The report was prepared on the basis of the guidelines of the Global Reporting Initiative (GRI) and the ten principles of the UN Global Compact.

The company's existing materiality analysis was updated in the course of preparing the report. Key topics in this report are energy efficiency, reducing CO<sub>2</sub> emissions, compliance, occupational health and safety, and responsibility in the supply chain.

"Heubach has more than 215 years of history as a pigment manufacturer. A sustainable, responsible approach to business is therefore firmly rooted in our company. We believe that sustainability is a key factor in the company's long-term success, so it will continue to be at the very top of our agenda." Birgit Genn, Managing Director.

The report provides an overview of projects and the objectives that were achieved over the last three years, along with an outlook on the company's goals for the next reporting period in the areas of corporate governance, product responsibility, ecology, social responsibility, and the supply chain. In the area of ecology, for example, the company plans to reduce its specific CO<sub>2</sub> emissions by 25 percent and lower its specific waste volume by 10 percent, both of which are to be achieved by the year 2024 (base: 2017). Additional key objectives include embedding sustainability in the supply chain and improving occupational health and safety.

Heubach has been participating in the United Nations Global Compact since 2017. By taking this step, the company pledges to uphold the Compact's 10 principles in the areas of human rights, labor standards, the environment, and corruption prevention. The UN Global Compact is the world's largest and most important initiative for sustainable and responsible corporate governance. The sustainability report also serves as the progress report for the initiative.
